

Take this Art & About Sydney Tour for the family and discover a host of activities and fun that will keep the kids happy, the parents pleasant, and the family unit completely harmonious. Well, you can only hope...

Start your day in Hyde Park North, where there's plenty happening. Pop in to Happy Talk [1], a Gilligan's Island inspired pavilion in Sandringham Gardens. There's workshops, public art projects and design challenges throughout Art & About. Check out the timetable at www.artandabout.com.au.

The kids will also love Little Sydney Lives [2], an exhibition of photographs from children 11 years and under showing us Sydney through their eyes. Then wander through to the Central Walkway, to show them how the grown-ups do it, with 22 finalists in this year's popular Sydney Life [2] exhibition.

Enjoy a picnic lunch under the trees then make your way to Tsunami 1.26 [3] on the corner of George and Park Streets. This gigantic aerial net was created by acclaimed American artist Janet Echelman using the latest 3D modelling software, and is flying high above the city.

Then walk to Martin Place, checking out the street banners along the way. Featuring responses from Sydneysiders to the question: What If? [4]

Next its time for Acts of Kindness [4], an exciting new work from acclaimed British artist Michael Landy exploring the often unnoticed acts of kindness in our daily lives, this is a collaboration with Kaldor Public Art Projects.
